His knowledge of the geology and topography of Eagland and his antiquarian esearch added life and truth to his parhis history, and his marvellous grasp of historic movements caused his books to ome with sturtling dramatic force of he historic world In our own country there is another writer, who takes up history in much the same way. Green gave us, The Making of Eagland, and John Fiske gives us, The Iteglanings of New England. In this book by John Fiske we have some thing of the subject, which in an imperfeet way, I will try to bring before you It is not necessary to prove that the original founders of New England were generally of English birth and descent itut John Fiske tells us in The Heginglugs of New England, that the majority of posities of England, and the East Auglion countles at that. If thea, the majority of those who be came the founders of New England come from the Eastern countles of England, It s possible to tell what lathtence these ountles had on them, and through them and New England, upon the rest of the nature. Thus, not only would there Founders, but the special characters, lines the occupations, which they followed. o the people of these Eastern counties, It will only be natural if we that the same. John Fiske, throws some light on this question. He says, in The Reginlings of New England, pages 73-75. "No one can study the lilstory of the and the greater hospitality of Cambridge toward new ideas. The explanation may of Cambridge upon the East Auglican horder, the Eastern countles of England have often been remarked as rife in erations the coast region between the Thomes and the Homber, was a veritable efitus hoeretleum." and are generally made by persons who should know better. The person who uses the expression think he don't," would be astonished hear the response "I beg to differ with you, but I think he do." If it is proper lesex names. Let me give some from to say "he don't," It is certainly equally f the Colony of Massacloisetta Bay, beproper to say "he do," for "dont" is the phbrevisted form of "do not." The conjugathor runs, "I do not," "you do not," follows: Akell, Adams, Allen, Angler the does not." consequently the con-Ames, Appleton, Archer, Arnold, Atkintracted forms are "I don't," "you don't," son, Barker, Barnes, Hell, Hendall, Ibenhe doesn't " So let us eschew the nett, Biggs, Blake, Bhounfield, Bourn don't" in the future, and say either the Bradbury, Brewster, Carrington, Cham does not," or what is perfectly permisberlnin, Chapman, Clarke, Coggeshall, sible in easy atterance, "he doesn't "

"He don't" and "don't be.

"It don't" and don't It "

"She don't" and "don't she."

These errors are of common occurrence

Whenever I speak of this particular error, the response that generally greets my ear is, "Isn't it strange that so many well-reducated people make that mistake? pression he don't think of what he is say lug. I never use it."

"It alu't" is another unpardonable error It sometimes seems as If all other sulstakes might be overlooked if one would refroin from "it don't" and "it aln't." "Alu't" is a loose contraction of "am not," but not of "is not." "I am not," "you are mit," "he l unt," is the proper conjugation, the contracted forms being, "Pm not," "you're mat" or "you mren't," "he's not," or Isn't," not "he ain't." Some persons who endeavor to be correct eschew contractions altogether, but there is no good reason why one should not use contractions if one will use the proper ones. To refrain from using them has a tendency to lead a pedantic air to one's speech. In diguilled atterance la fore large assemblies one has less license that is one lives on a large city, but of a but in conversational atternaces, contrac tions are permissible.

What is denounated as the executive civil service is con trued to comprise all persons in the implies of the executive department he federal government, except collsted men in the milliary and haval branches and the total amoiner is given at 271,169 This civil-service host is larger than any armles the government ever employed b actual war except during the period of the rebellion. In treating of the civil service the census intremulivides this force lulo two parts. time, numbering 120,78% comprises largely those who are exempt from rivil-service examinations Inclinded in this division are 73,189 pastmasters, 10,855 capployes at non-free de-Probably more men would become fapavy yards and stations.

The classified civil service takes cogniture of 150,383 governments employes, 1 chiding 137,061 males and 13,322 females Of this total, 89,717 are serving in it post-office department and 23,455 in th treasury department. Thus it is seen that these two departments emplo three-fearths of the classified civil-ser vice employes. More than half of all the positions were filed by examinations, and anont one-fourth were brought into the ebissificil service by its extension. The ligures do not indicate that appointmen f helig an idiot miless she is in love a civil-service lusures long lenure with him and he is in love with some other of the total above stated, 32,525 held their places one year or less, while only 5,979 have held theirs for 20 years or more There are, however, in the service persons who have held places more than

Continuing the analysis of salaries, w Ind that 72.7 per cent of all the classified imployes on salaries receive less than 81, too a year. The mumber of male employes who get more than $2,500 is 1.1 per cent and the percentage of females who are paid above $1,600. Is exactly the same. There are 3,122 of the clvll-service army who are less than 20 years of age, and 101 who are 80 more. One of the curiosities of the bulletia from which these figures have been obtained is that it states that 10 of the persons of less than 20 years of age have been in the service from tive to nine years. Piace-hold ing began very young with some of them. The largest number of employes is shown in the age period between 30 and 39 years. Nine per cent of those who are 80 years and upward have been in the service less than live years.

is the United States Drifting Towards Astrocracy?

(From the Philadelphia Ledger.) Are there not some trafts in our national dorracter which predispose toward one an power? It has been pointed out time and again that our industrial organization is the most despotle in the world. The absolute power wielded by the presidents of American business corporations in the management of such concerns' cannot be paralleied in any other country. It is evident to every observer that the princi ples that have determined our industrial success are now strongly influencing our political systemo. indications are not lacking that we are beginning to depart from the traditional Ideas of popular government. The appointive power of he executive is being constantly enlarged. and an increasing unmber of officers are elug withdrawn from popular election. Those changes represent tendencle toward greater elliclency in administration; but it is still an open question whether they are in harmony with the ldeas of popular government. We seem to be reaching a point when a new adjustment must be made between democracy and efficiency. A spirit of nestioning and doubt is rife as to whether the forms of government which the founders of our system established are adequate to meet the complex probems of our civilization. The adjustmen the being made through the slow and slient rocess of constitutional Interpretation rather than by the more revolutionar methosi of amendment; but these changes are no less important than if made through changes in our organic law The executive power has profited by very step in the broadening of interpre tather of the Constitution, but whether his will lead to changes in our political

A general rule is not easy to apply in such a case. Great deeds have been done, great thoughts uttered, by men of all iges, from tender youth to advanced age. If we should subtract the work of me nder 40 from the sam of human achieve nent it would make no piore difference li he world, probably, than the reduction from the whole of the deeds of men becoul the Osler age limit for the maximum of human usefulness and endcayor. The United States and Japan. (From the Columbus, O., Press-Post.) The pessivalstle view of the chairma of the military committee is entirely unwarranted, and the proposition that the United States should now begin preparalon for certain conflict with Japan Is stupid in the extreme. Japan will hav coasiderable outlet for her overpopula tion when she finally obtains control of Korea. Korea has long been destred by dapanese statesaien as an ontict for her overliow normation. So long as Korea was out of her grasp immigration aatually tended to cross the Pacific to Hawali and California or to Australia. Korea is stlli an undeveloped country capable of systalning a much greater population, and there is no doubt that Japan will colonize It with actual settlers, if for no other reason than to make certain of the hold which he has obtained by military Japan also has the great Island of Formosa, another ontlet for her population Study the dapanese and you will find the untion more nearly allled to the Amerlean nation than any other occidental nation, itesldes the day is just dawning when Japan is entering upon a great economic future as a manufacturing and ommercial nation. She is more favor bly situated than any power in the world o trade with China, and in seafaring calling there is no possible doubt that the apanese are bound to become leaders. 68 Centre Street, Brockton, What the United States should consid

Stomach Deranged, Liver Dormant. Dr. Miles' Nervine Cured Me Completely.

A slight cold in the winter with lever, ice-d-sche, backsche; when the bose rans and the eves water and a soreness seems to permeate the marrow of the bose; this is the beginning of Grip's desilly grasp. The danger follows in the shattered nervous system and the derangement of the learn or the digestive organs as in the following case:

"The last week in January I contracted Lindique and was confined to my bed for live weeks. My nervous system was completely shattered, stomach badly deranged and liver in an almost domoant condition. I moke teatment daily from my fenoly physician, but could get no relief. My condition continued to grow worse and as I laid often lentl of Dr. Miles' medicines I decided to try them. I purchased a bottle of 1 fr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Nerve and Liver Pulls. When I legan taking the medicine I had no appetite, couldn't sleep sud was scarcely able to get around. My weight at this time was one hundred and twenty-lour pounds. At the end of the second week I was a changed main, my appetite was beyond control, my sleep was reflexing, my strength renewed and how yeight was one hundred and lorty two pounds. I never left better In my life than I do at this writing. I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Miles' Remedies to the allifacted. II anyone doubt the allove statement I am ready to ennfirm it."—D. U. WALKER, U. S. Tressury Dep't. Washington, D. C.

Green gave us, The Making of England, and John Fiske gives us, The Beglasings of New England. In this book by John Fiske we have some thing of the subject, which in an imper fect way, I will try to bring before you It is not necessary to prove that the original founders of New England were generally of English birth and descent Hat John Fiske tells as in The Heginning of New Eagland, that the majority of countles of England, and the East Anglian countles at that.

If then, the majority of those who be came the founders of New England came from the Eastern countles of England, it is possible to tell what influence thes ountles had on them, and through them and New England, upon the rest of the and they trace the origin of the majority country. This influence would not be of of the Founders of New England back to one kind only, but would be varied in its the Eastern shires of England. But it nature. Thus, not only would there may be possible to trace the majority of be the family infinence, that is, the even these to one or two of those Eastern family origin of each one of the countles. Let us examine the county of Founders, but the special characters, lines | Essex, for instance, and we will learn, of thought, family worship, religious that it seems to have stamped itself upon ideas, mental characteristics, and even the occupations, which they followed. If we find certain characteristics peculiar the people of these Eastern counties, It will only be natural if we find the Founders of New Eagland having the land from which they came. There is a

Have I not now said enough to she that the family influence on the Founder of New England comes mainly from th Eastern shires of England, and more tha that, that the single country of Esser seems to have had the largest share in that influence.

Nearly all of the enriy settlers of New England can be traced back to the county of Essex, and the reason why this is no generally known is because the generalog of the original settler is often trace back only to the town or vilinge in white Ward, Warner, Warren, Watson, Webb, he lived at the time of setting out for the new world. Thus two of the men whom I have already mentioned as being native of Essex have been given us matives of Vorkshire and Suffolk. They are Re-Ezeklel Rogers, who had been preachly or some years at Howiey in Vorkshire at the time of his emigration to America Essex, where his father, Hichard Hogers had preached for 41 years. The other was Hey. Nathanlel Hogers who had been preaching at Assington in Suffolk, but was born in Dedham and was the son of the famous preacher, John Hogers, who

The Influence of the Eastern Shires of England on the Founders of New Eng-

Continued from page 1 have already mentioned and wh reached in Hedham for 31 years. These men because of their personal imracter, great learning, and position as eminent divines, had a great deal to do with moulding both the social and political haracter of the colony, and though they tave often been given as from Vorkshire and Suffick, they were really men of Essex. I could mention other cases, for lustance the Adams family, which has furnished two Presidents of the United States besides Amhassadors to the Com of St. James. Of their origin there is no certain record, aithough some authorities trace them to Hevonshire, but that is doubted, and I am inclined to believe with t'ol. Chester, who traces the family to Essex to a tearish within ten miles Kelvedon. In many instances where tradition has established the ancestors of some New England family to other con ties of England, a careful investigation has dispelied the libration, and they have been traced to some quiet anok or corn of Essex Another evidence of the prominence of Essex county in New England is the facthat In 1613, when the Colony was divided into four shires Essex was named first. It is stated in the decree put forth by the lay lath, 1613, "the whole idantation within this purisdiction, i. e., Polony of Massachusetts Hay, is divided Into four dires, to wit, Essex, Middlesex, Suifolk and Norfolk." True to their instincts the men of Essex seem to have been abid to get the name of their own county Pret on the list.

Now these men of Essex had a vast in fluence in moulding, developing and es tablishing the religious, moral and Inter lectual life of New England. Puritans themselves.

Another idea, and one which is being supported by an association called "The Mayflower Associates," is that the great influences which made New England what It is, came from the Pilgrims and was due to their residence at Leyden in Holland The arguments already used in reference bad, and it is very much to the credit of the early rulers of the colonies that they to the Holland intercourse apply also to this statement. The Pilgrims had excelthe foundation of a nation so great and lent ideas of government and religion, but they held them in England before they went to Leyden, therefore It is not correct to say they gained them there They may have learned something of toleration by their residence there and from the teachings of the saintly John Robinson, but it was the natural growth They were men in the humbler ranks of of the circumstances in which they were lfe, with large families, who saw that placed and we should honor them for it, not Leyden. > Econumic Forgiveness. (From the Memphis News-Scimitar.)

Secretary Hay has set the nations of ie earth an example in magnauluity that oes honor to the American came by recommending that we forgive China the result of the lloxer uprising.
This is not the first time that Secretary Hay has voiced American generosity

While the other nations were clamorlag for their money in gold to the last stiver, Mr. Hay accepted payment in silver. and he is not a free sliver man at that. Mr. Hay placed American diplomacy b the attitude of a civilizing and humaniz ing force in the world. The great Hismark wrote about "the charlataury and pomposity of diplomacy," and Sydney Smith, the English wit and statesman declared that diplomacy was to lie for one's country. American diplomacy is different, and has been made so largely through the personal influence of Mr. Hay. In war and la peace our policy is penness and candor, straightforwardness matter of business. We drive as good bargain as we can, but we do nothing u an underhanded or Judfrect way. Some great editors of quintessential suplency flud fault with Secretary Hay, erate him and belittle him; but their ideas of world politics are confined to the ongressional district in which they live. veryone will concede that Secretary Hay is a gentleman of eminent character and idgh scholarly attalnments. He has been loing things that concern the public, the world public. His services are not confined to domestic attairs Withal, he is a nodest and massaming gentleman in world politics or diplomacy he is looked apon as a commanding personality and the founder of a new school, the American school, the school that will yet domiate and rule the world when the world comes more enlightened and civilized and humane, when men and matters learn o trust each other more and love each ther more. It seems to be the mission of America to go forth as the evangel of this new dispensation, and Secretary Hay is fortunate in being the instrument of

Secretary Hay knows, as all who are market for our cutton, and the greatest ng nation needs our fabrics, and as ve we have indy touched the fringe of it. If child in Phona who wants to be child it. and trewlasse Interest II, would be to I riothed, ration would never fall as law as lifteen coals a possed to the field. The he a drown to the tooket as compared to our trade with Pidag in cotton goods Phing's confidence and Phing's good will. To give that country back its silver dol-000,000 in advertising Southern conto intailigent conception of the question car do aught but applant Secretory Hay's considerations. The return of the $22. ond,000 in silver may look big to little people, but the full-grown man knows that the development of Chinese trade would mean to the South alone live times that sum in one year. But perhaps Mr. Hay will survive the assault of his critics Nance O'Neil at the Tremont Theatre. Those entertaining members of the re-introduced to the Roston public at th

Premont Theatre on Monday evening last

The young, attractive and popular American Tragedienne, Miss Nance 4 Nell, was the Lady MacHetla supported in an effective and impressive manner by Charles Daiton as MucDeth, Charles Miliward a Macdell and Louis Massen as Danous The remaining bong list of characters Shakespeare's masterful tragedy were rendered in an altogether faultless man mark the event as one long to be remen bered in the history of Hoston, theatrical Manager Juo II. Schoetfel deserves the thanks and praise of every lover of the acted classic drama for the manner b which the tragedy is staged. The second week of MIss (CNell's engagement at the Premont will embrace a round of he most popular and successful plays. Th repertoire will be as follows: Monday evening and Wednesday aftermore "Magda," Tuesday evening, "Fires of St John," Weingesday and Saturday evening "The Jewess," and Thursday and Frhla evenlugs and Saturday afternoon "Camille" Each of the plays will be presented in the same careful and pain taking manner that have always charac terized the Nauce tl'Nell productions The plays for the third and that week Miss Il'Nell's season will be nanounced by one coarse Immediately following the Tremont engagement Miss ("Nell will re turn for a farewell engagement of on week in New York polor to suiling away o Australia where she will play a seaso of six months under Mr. Schneffel's man agement.

Washington, Bretton Woods, N. 11., The New Tenr of naming cannot be over-extinated. Raymond, Pasadena, Cal., Wentworth Hall, Jack. We find its greatest principal use wher we deal in plants, seeds, etc., with other And most especially do we realize the necessity for a definite, exact system of naming when we deslie these plants for mediclinal purposes. Now if for scientific reasons a hotanist should wish to secure, let us say, u-plant of the "slack-in-the-pulpit" from Russia, he could never hope to get It If he asked for a "dack-in-the-pulpit"; but if he should send for an Arisa our triphyllum he would be perfectly sure of receiving nationality to which he sent, because the botanists of any country upon seeing the Latin name would know exactly what he meant. Even in our own country there are many localities, where the "black-lathe Pulpit" so familiar a name to us b unknown to others by that name. But it universally recognized by the name Arisocola triphythum. The name "Jack-In-the-pullet" does not appear in Grav's Manual, the totanical standard, in which the only common name given for H is "Indian Turnipe" This, then, is a plant which has different common names in different localities. Now on the other hand many plants of entirely different species are known in various parts of the country by the same common name

For example, the anemone is in many nealities called "May-flower": the arutus is called the "May-flower" of other duces and is the plant most widely known y that pame because of its historical white malanthemum is called the "Mayower. Thus we see how inisleading fore one of the first and most important fillings to do in the study of bothny Is to studied. When these names are firmly xed in mind one has a foundation upon which to work and a means of communieation with all pationalities. The scientific naming of plants is very similar to the naming of people except similar to the naming of people except sort that the order of names is reversed. We say "John Smith" "James Smith," and Closeph Smith In ludary it is Rooms culus bullas s. Recementus geres, Resennwhere repeated bulbons buttercups, tall to nerid imitercup, creeping loutercup, as James, etc. And in our Smith family the name John, James, or Joseph specific speak of and so in the Bammenlin family the names thosus acris, and repairs specify which buttercup we wish cospeak of Another similarity between e plant families and the human families the method of naturing is that in the comen family there are only a limited fewer far than the number of sur-names else why are there so many Johns and iles, the difficulty of learning the name

econdary or specific names occur again

"Arcanian," 388 Washington St., is much lessened by the fact that the learned there is soon comparatively. little that is difficult or new to learn except the generic name. The learning of the Latin names of plants must be much easier to us English-speaking people than to many other nationalities because we have in our language so many tatla derivatives Vyaplana adarata that that flower is odorous or sweet smelling; that Gerardia surpured is purple, and that trerordia aritima is a operation or sea-side plant; that Piola can wais the slog violet site . liding so many other subjects of conal and of less innortance, that it is of thoroughly in this paper. Two General Principles.-Why the Church Should Not Appear to Indorse Dis-(From the Churchman.)

Without entering for the moment into malifylag causes or necessary exceptions there are two general principles tha First, that as a Christian Church is ope to all sorts and comiltions of men for their sulvation, all are free to come, and to give as well as to pray. The other is that where representatives of a Church solicit gifts from those who are notorl ously reputed to be making money by gethods which the Church could not at prove they assume for the Church volun tary en-partnership in such methods. In general, then, it would appear that where dierlugs are made to Goil through IIIs Church by the ordinary rhannels the repesentatives of the Church are not a liberty, much less are they called upon, to havestigate the sources of those offer lngs; but representatives of the Church ssame a grave responsibility when the sollelt or exploit gifts from those who are notoriously charged with violating orinciples which she is in the world to tencle and to preach. It is not within our province nor within the pravince of any roundtice to judge individuals person zens, whether in Church or State, ticresent and comlemn a servile attitude the part of their representatives toward the representatives of methods that tend to degrade citizenship in the state and to dishonor citizenship in the Kingdom o God. To the extent to which this protest noidle conscience as against such servilly these Congregational ministers have reudered very real service and deserve sympathy and recoperation. If the pindertial committee did solleit gifts from Mr. Hackefeller, the acceptance of that $100, 000 maler those combitions would surely commit the Congregationalists to an approval lu some form of his methods and ways. We cannot believe that any body of Christians would be justified by voluntarily forming a ropartnership on such terms. We believe that every man should be as much at liberty to give us to pray, to give on the scriptural principle of not bettlug one hand know what the other does - We do not belive in "clean" money or "tainted" money. Money b neither good nor lead; it is an instrument

"Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine has done of great deel for me. In the Isil of 1897 my health was in a cere poor condition. Extreme nervousness, thrzy spells onth sick headoches made me most miserable. I had been under the care of our local physician for some time, but got no better. I wis on the verge of nervous prostration. Had no appetite, our could not sleep. I grew warve as the dizzy spells continued and lost flesh and strength. (The Hosse owill days, A lady litend who heal taken Restorotive Nervoe edissed me to twit. I hought o bottle at the local drug store and when it was one helping me. the college graduate, who is cery par thenlar to say, "I feel badly." The on educated person would never be guilty of the offense: If he had never seen a grammsr, he would sag, "I feel bad" and he would be correct. The same person who feels builty would never think of feeling sailly nor gladly; he would feel sail or glad as the case might be, so to be con spenking "I feel bad" in the senae of uc feeling well or of feeling unhappy is no the best English one can use. It occupies a dublous position. "I am not feeling well" If one is not in good physical cou llilon is a better expression. "I am feeling sail or uphappy" If one's feelings other than physical are affected. "You come to Boston daily or at infrequent intervals you can have a bank account at the Old Colony Trust Company with perfect eonvenience. The system of banking by mail which has been adopted gives thorough satisfaction in every respect. You ean send your deposits by mail in the form of money orders or cheeks. Your pass book need not be sent with your deposit, or to be balanced. Each month a statement is rendered by mail which shows the condition of your account, and your cancelled ehecks are returned at the same time.

When you come to town you need not bring money with you and run the risk of losing it through theft or carelessness. You can cash checks at either the main office in the Ames Building or at the Temple Place branch office, whichever may be most convenient for you.

The Temple Place office is particularly adapted to the needs of women, not only on account of its location, but because of its arrangement, equipment, and management. A pamphlet illustrating and describing it will be mailed on request.

and the person so fortunate as to have such work in the month gains the anvy of nequaintances for having such a perfect set of teeth.

The cheap advertising dentists of the cities, who advertise to put on (OLD CROWNS as low as THREE DOLLARS and gold Illings for any old price they can get, have so ynlgarized the use of gold in the mouth that fushionable people are having their gold fillings removed and replaced with porcelain. We have spent a large amount of time and money in the last wo years perferling ourselves in the art of porcelain ulling, for the reason that we were convinced that porcelain was the only right kind of filling for my eavity near the front of the mouth. We have also figured out that with the increased skill which comes from long practice we can insert these fillings at a that price of the dollars per eavity and get about the same returns that we have been getting for our gold fillings, which is all we ask. There are many gold fillings that look all right when new, which tarnish and book an sightly in a few months. To all those who are dissatisfied with each work, we would say that porcelain fillings improve in appearance with age, and the only thing that may happen to them is to fall out. When this loes happen, we acknowledge it to be our fault and always replace such sugar farming has greatly changed and shrunk In early days maple sugar was the South, because cane sugar, was Alr tually naobtainable. No longer is the even a limited production in South Caro llna, Theorgia, Alabama, Mississippl. Louislanaa, and Arkansas This Is be ause chae sogar can now be louight verywhere at a low prime, and is pro In Indiana, Michigan and Diffusis the maple trees have been extensively cut for lumber, thus reducing the opportunity for tree tapping. In thuse States also which removes the inequality to extending the ladustry. In other States, as in western Maryland, West Virginia, Oldo, New York, and In New England, the maple sugar industry has held its new or been moler northern States, yet good results can be be expected in most of Pennsylania and West Virginia, in western Maryland, all of Indiana and Kentucky astern Tennessee, and western North lucers of sugar maple products are Objo Vermont and New York. The sugar and black maples yield the most and the best may be worked to advantage when neither of these is available. The maple is a limity and vigorous tree nol readily reproduces liself, so there meed he no fear of follure of sap supply sideration is for the tree to have a full and heavy crown. Yet it should also grow under forest conditions which maintain a ground cover of litter and

As a result of the study recently made. definite directions for the management and improvement of existing groves, and for the establishment of new ones in sulfable localities and under different conditions, have been prepared and will soon be published. Many valuable data regarding the profit in making maple sugar were also collected. From these it appears that a farmer can easily clear about 83 an acre from a sugar grove. The exmaximum; all the latter and builting are charged in at market rates, though as a time when the farmer has little other cuplayment for bluself or bls borses.

he considerably larger. And the lamb thus utilized will yield little or nothing under any other use. The old method of collecting the sap by naking a diagonal cut in the tree was ultandoned long ago because it injured the tree so that it could be worked for but a few years. The approved practice now is to bore a hule one luch deep and bree-eighths of an inch in diameter into the sunny side of trees over 12 luches it dlameter, and to make but one hole in each tree, except possibly where the frees are especially large and productive. Vast Improvements have also been umde in appliances for handling the sap and holling it down to sugar and syrup.

Maple trees now furnish but a netual practice, for the farmer who can percent of the commercial maple syrup and sugar. While the demand for both these commodities has constantly be creased, the output from mande trees has decreased during the last (wenty years, The trade has been supplied only by rudically adulterating the pure goods, or by manufacturing a product entirely from foreign materials. It is conservatively estimated that seven-eighths of what i ous article. Most of the fabrications me entirely harmless, but they are not th real thing. Those fortunate enough to ive enten the genuine article will alway and adulterate it most profitably for themselves. The extent of this adulterthemselves. The extent of the that while alon is illustrated by the fact that while the amount of the raw product has determined. Pasadena, Cal., Westword Hall, Jackson and Cal. creased, the whole quantity sold has increased and its market price has been reduced. Of late years the price has fallen in direct relation to the decrease in the price of came sugar. The most common substitutes used in the adulteration of maple sugar and syrup the so-called maple syrup on the market is authing but a combination of sweets with a little maple molasses added to give the maple flavor. There is also a majde syrup which contains no nurple at all, fint he flavor is obtained by adding to the compound an extract of lickory bark. This extensive adulteration forces the orodneers of pure maple syruptor coupete with cheap initatious. The price of their raw product is kept down, and the forests of maple are not as prolliable to their owners as they otherwise might be. The consumer is entitled to pure goods. and the producer is entitled to have his syrap and sugar hought and used for hat it is. The remedy is in the hands of the producers, and they can effect a change for the better in two ways. They taste. can associate themselves in State and large local companies, and, by selling direct to consumers, cat out the middlemen; and they can also put their product on the market in the form not of sugar

The public will not object to paying a little higher price for guaranteed pure goods. The cost of making and handling trary, I never cease to regard them with larger, the public better served, and the maple sagar industry profitably extended The association plan has been adopted h Vermont with excellent results Annual "Ho you think people will ever be aide meetings are held, through whose influence improved methods of production have been adopted, a rentral market es "I danno," replied the western senator, faidished, and a registered trade-mark created which is a guarantee of absolut parity In this way a trade of good pro portions has been hillt up mis failed to swell, when the hirds for got to sing their unting sougs, there would be such a panic in the land as neither war, familie nor pestillence could godice Even the agnostic would know then that we had hest God. For whatever doubts some may entertain concern-ing the dog-cared theology of mankind, here are certain scriptures, assured to us forever. No man nor church can tamper with earth's April resurrection, nor read into her fragrant gospels of peace and good will a clause of perpetual damna non If we live or die, she is sure t me again, bringing with her the same miracle of life renewed. She is sure to all forth all the good, green impulses o ature. She is sure to work all things ogether for the good of May and for the full-libewn rose of June. Nothing we snow or do not know can take away this monise of life everlasting. It is not omided upon a theory, but upon w fact If we miss the assurance, it is because we have less faith than the dunit earth She does not send up her lilies and flagaccording to a creed, but by the divin Inspiration of earth and sky; they come when April calls. Nothing since time was divided into years has changed this joy-quickening order of things. And we all believe in it with a prefound conti dence. Infidelity is at last only a seem of the voice, a concelt of the mortal mind Back of it lies a faith so regnant that the veriest skeptic of us all still saws his eeds in April, and expects her to win hem back from the sod in a new, fairer residents have found it to tagir advantage to open an account with the Old Colony Trust Company, even though they continue to carry accounts in their local bank.

Outside of Boston checks on a Boston bank or Trust Company arc more acceptable than checks on a local bank, and greater privacy naturally must attend transactions made through a large bank in a large city. Another advantage is that the Trust Company allows 2% interest on daily balances of $500 or more. Every account, large or

Hunling Big Game.

The trip of Mr. Ibiosevelt in search of dg game recalls attention to the fact of the constantly growing searchy of big ame everywhere in this country. The President and his gubbs are now in the hest limiting country of the United States for hig game killing. It has been carefully selected by men familiar with every ection of the flocky mountain ranges, and who know how by go direct to the points where game of the kind sought is the most likely to be found, and which has not been so well shot over as other parts of the mountains. Vet, after all of these advantages in its favor, the presideutini party does nut, so far us reports have yet indicated, appear to have scured up any large amount of game; not so large an amount, in fact, as an ordinary party not so many years ago inight well have hoped to encounter. With the lest of guides, the finest hunting fixed dogs and a vast stretch of country practically
